JESSE WATTERS, FOX NEWS CHANNEL HOST: That's all for tonight. DVR the show, if you can figure out how. I surely can't.

Tucker is up next and always remember, I'm Watters and this is my world.

TUCKER CARLSON, FOX NEWS CHANNEL HOST: Good evening, and welcome to TUCKER CARLSON TONIGHT. Happy Friday.

In your head, you always imagine the revolution when it starts. It'll start with tanks and gunfire with chaos and soldiers in the street. You'll know when it comes, but it never does. Instead, the really big changes to American life, the profound ones that affect all of us forever, those changes almost always begin quietly with gentle pleas for tolerance.

We'd like to do things a little differently, they tell you. We'd like to make a change to some custom or belief that people have been attached to for the last few thousand years, but don't be alarmed. It's not a big deal. You don't even need to participate. All we ask is that you let us live the way we want to live.

That's always the pitch and of course, you always agree to it. Why wouldn't you? Who could say no to that? Some guy down the street wants to wear a dress? Okay. Fine, have a party. It doesn't affect you. You don't have to wear a dress, so go ahead. Live and let live.

But it turns out that's never actually the deal. The guy down the street wears his dress, but after a while, that's not enough for him. He's still angry and for some reason, he is angry with you. And that doesn't make sense because you're the person who had no problem with him wearing a dress in the first place. What did you do wrong?

Well, the problem is you're not wearing a dress and neither are your kids. Your normal-person clothes, the ones you've always worn, are suddenly immoral. You've got to change immediately.

Democrats Want Gender-Affirming Sanctuaries; Virginia Democrats Want To Prosecute Parents Who Refuse To Help Their Kids Transition; FBI Not Interested In Prosec....

Whoa. Wait a second, you say, that's not what we agreed to. You do your thing and I'll do mine. Remember? They don't remember. They don't care. That's not how it works.

You don't get to do your thing anymore. The dress guy is in charge now. Everybody has got to do his thing -- the dress thing or face punishment. That's how it goes.

"Be tolerant" becomes "show some respect" which evolves very quickly into "bow down before us and lick our feet or else we will hurt you." That's the final stage. That's where we are now.

For example, a Democratic lawmaker in Virginia called Elizabeth Guzman is introducing a bill that will charge parents with a felony, strip them of their employment and imprison them if they don't wholeheartedly endorse their minor children's sex changes.

So, your 12-year-old daughter says she wants a mastectomy. If you object to that in any way, if you raise questions, Elizabeth Guzman will send you to jail. For real. Here's a local news report.

(BEGIN VIDEO CLIP)

WJLA REPORTER: Her bill would expand the State's definition of child abuse and neglect to include parents who do not affirm their child's gender identity or sexual orientation.

REP. ELIZABETH GUZMAN (D-VA): There is an investigation also in place that is not only, you know, from a social worker, but there's also a police investigation before we make that decision that there is going to be a CPS charge.

WJLA REPORTER: What could the penalties be if the investigation concludes and it's concluded that a parent is not affirming of their LGBTQ child? What could the consequences be?

GUZMAN: Well, we first have to have an investigation. You know, it could be a felony. It could be a misdemeanor, but we know a CPS charge could harm, you know, your employment, could harm your education.

(END VIDEO CLIP)

CARLSON: So, who is this Elizabeth Guzman?

Well, Elizabeth Guzman came to this country not so long ago from Peru as a single mother. Now, rather than wait a while, maybe spend a few generations here before telling you how to raise your children in America, she has decided to get right to it and completely change child-rearing in this country in a way that would never be tolerated for a second in the country from which she comes. Try that in the Andes, honey, and see how that works. Yes.

But in this country, according to Elizabeth Guzman, you have to affirm your child's sex change or else you're going to prison and the State will raise your kids.

Now, you've got to think, maybe they've wanted this for a while. What would this mean? Well, it would mean fewer intact families. It would mean people like Elizabeth Guzman make the decisions, the meaningful decisions within your house. It means less resistance from you. It means more power for them.

What it doesn't mean is that Elizabeth Guzman will be protecting your kids. She doesn't even claim this law will protect your kids. Instead, she acknowledges the whole point is to "educate parents." Right.

So, like the COVID vaccine, this is a pretty easy way to figure out who is on which side. Are you for this? Okay, you're on our team. You're willing to surrender control of your own children to Elizabeth Guzman, who, again, just got here. But if you're not for it, then we know you're not on our team. We know who you are. We can silence you. We can punish you because you refuse to be educated.

Democrats Want Gender-Affirming Sanctuaries; Virginia Democrats Want To Prosecute Parents Who Refuse To Help Their Kids Transition; FBI Not Interested In Prosec....

So, it's a signaling mechanism and you know that because the ideology that underlies it, gender ideology, is completely incoherent. It doesn't make any sense at all. It is not rooted in science. It's a form of religion that is so crazy it dares you to say something about it.

What? You can't even say that. If you do, they know you're on the other side.

And it's not just lunatics and ideologues like Elizabeth Guzman from Peru. It's doctors, it's medical professionals.

Here's a video from Boston Children's Hospital, one of the most famous hospitals in the world, which like many hospitals in the United States at this point under the Joe Biden administration cut the breasts off of minor girls for no medically justifiable reason.

Watch a practicing psychologist, now attending psychologist, at Boston Children's Hospital explain how early children can become trans.

(BEGIN VIDEO CLIP)

DR. KERRY MCGREGOR, BOSTON CHILDREN'S HOSPITAL: So, most of the patients that we have in GeMS Clinic actually know their gender, usually around the age of puberty, but a good portion of children do know as early as seemingly from the womb, and they will usually express their gender identity as very young children, some as soon as they can talk.

They might say phrases such as "I'm a girl" or "I'm a boy" or "I'm going to be a woman" or I'm going to be a mom." Kids know very, very early.

So, in the GeMS Clinic, we see a variety of young children all the way down to ages two and three and usually up to the ages of nine.

(END VIDEO CLIP)

CARLSON: So, that's Kerry McGregor. She is a psychologist. She works at Harvard. I wonder how many children Kerry McGregor has. Has she raised a lot of kids? Has she watched kids carefully? Does she know anything about kids? Because she is telling you, if your little kid says, "Oh, I may be on the other sex," that means your kid is the other sex.

Well, that's insane, because almost a hundred percent of kids at one point or another, at a certain point in development, say things like, "I think I'm a boy. I think I'm a girl." And you smile indulgently, "Get back to me in 15 years."

But no, says Kerry McGregor, in the womb you can know.

So think about what they're telling you. They're telling you that developing child in the womb is just a part of the mother. Therefore, you can abort that child at any time. It's like an appendectomy, but at the same time, that same cluster of cells, that fetus, can also be woke and ascribe to left liberal gender ideology and you need to honor that.

So, no sane person could believe any of this voluntarily. It doesn't even make sense on its face. Again, it's a religion and if you resist it, they resort immediately to force. No questions allowed. Again, this is science and the essence of science is relentless questioning about what you think you know is true. That is the scientific method. That's science itself, but it is no longer allowed.

The American Medical Association, which has utterly beclowned itself, along with the American Academy of Pediatrics and the Children's Hospital Association, just sent a letter to the Attorney General of the United States demanding that the Biden administration, and we're quoting, "Take swift action to investigate and prosecute high profile users on social media" who have engaged in "disinformation."

Democrats Want Gender-Affirming Sanctuaries; Virginia Democrats Want To Prosecute Parents Who Refuse To Help Their Kids Transition; FBI Not Interested In Prosec....

You hate to always invoke the German government of 80 years ago, but what else is that? That's totalitarian. They're saying if you disagree with what we're doing, people with guns should come and take you away.

Now you'd think someone in the media would point out, "Wow, you know, we can't have that in the United States where people are free to believe what they want and to talk about it in public and to ask questions." In fact, they should be encouraged to, but the media don't say anything like that. They're joining with the Children's Hospital Association, the AMA, to call for more censorship at gun point. Watch.

(BEGIN VIDEO CLIP)

MEDHI HASAN, MSNBC: Obviously, the question becomes then when misinformation, disinformation is being spread, when hate and threats are being spread, where are the social media companies? What's YouTube doing? What's Twitter doing? And of course, then you have the reaction to that "Oh, this is Big Tech silencing people." It always becomes a debate about free speech, doesn't it?

BRANDY ZADROZNY, NBC NEWS, SENIOR REPORTER: Yes, it does. You know, last week, Twitter suspended Libs of TikTok specifically for the policy against the promotion of threats, violence, and harassment. So, great job, right?

But it's been seven days and Libs of TikTok is back now and they're tweeting right this very minute. This is violence, this is harassment. It's clear what these accounts are doing.

(END VIDEO CLIP)

CARLSON: It's so funny. Back to the point at the open, when the revolution comes, there won't be tanks and soldiers. There won't be stormtroopers in all uniforms and symbols. It'll be some unmarried 30-year-old woman talking in a singsong voice, inflection at the end. "Right. Right."

Special glasses or complex glasses that don't actually improve her vision. She'll have all kinds of pointless humanities degrees and she'll be on cable news saying, "Right. It's violence." What she's really saying is "Shut up and obey or we will hurt you." She is delivering the same message that these stormtrooper delivers, but she's doing it in a singsong way. "This is disinformation."

Call us literal, but this is the opposite of disinformation. This is not disinformation. This is literally what they're saying. Boston Children's Hospital as we just showed you on tape is telling you what they're doing. They perform double mastectomies on minors for no medical reason whatsoever. That's insane. It ought to be a crime.

In a civilized country it would be and they know that because when they were caught, they tried to erase the evidence and they're not alone. UCSF, UW Health in Wisconsin, Golisano Children's Hospital in New York, Vanderbilt Health, Children's Minnesota -- all of these hospitals have deleted the evidence of their gender-affirming procedures, their grotesque mutilation of children after they were publicized. Their own words were publicized online. No one is twisting it. People are just putting up their words and not all the videos have been deleted.

Planned Parenthood is big into this now because it's lucrative. So, here is Planned Parenthood in 2021 telling children that so-called puberty blockers are harmless. Oh, right. That's a lie and by the way, there's no such thing as a puberty blocker.

These drugs are hormone agonists and they are FDA approved for things like cancer treatment. You get prostate cancer, they lower your testosterone, for example, to prevent the cancer from growing quickly. They are not approved for so-called "puberty blocking." They're unapproved and the long- term effects are not known, but it's pretty obvious they're grim, but Planned Parenthood won't tell you that. Here's their video.

(BEGIN VIDEO CLIP)

Democrats Want Gender-Affirming Sanctuaries; Virginia Democrats Want To Prosecute Parents Who Refuse To Help Their Kids Transition; FBI Not Interested In Prosec....

PLANNED PARENTHOOD VIDEO: You're transgender or non-binary. You may find that your puberty experiences don't line up with your gender identity or how you see yourself. That feeling can be uncomfortable, scary, and stressful.

If that sounds like you, know that you're not alone.

There are medicines you can take to delay puberty for a while. They are called puberty blockers, and they work like a stop sign by halting the hormones, testosterone and estrogen that cause puberty changes like facial hair growth and periods.

Puberty blockers are safe and can give you more time to figure out what feels right for you, your body and your gender identity.

(END VIDEO CLIP)

CARLSON: Okay, everything about that is dark and horrifying and there should be an uprising against that. That's aimed at your children -- not at adults who can make rational decisions -- but children who are people too young to drive or drink alcohol or smoke cigarettes or serve in the military or vote, people who are not (we have agreed as a group) capable of making rational adult decisions and that's aimed at them.

It is propaganda aimed at them and it's a lie. "Puberty blockers are safe." They are absolutely not safe. You can't delay puberty without damaging severely the bodies of young children. The FDA just identified several "clinically serious cases" of side effects after these drugs were recklessly administered to children by lunatic ideologues.

The FDA found a "plausible association" between the use of puberty blockers and something called intracranial hypertension. Do you want that for your 13-year-old?

According to the Mayo Clinic, that condition can cause brain swelling, double vision, severe headaches, permanent vision loss. In other words, brain damage. Brain damage. Oh, great. Okay.

On top of that, the European Journal of Endocrinology, among many other publications, has found that so-called puberty blockers often cause, "decreased bone density, which is associated with a high risk of osteoporosis" and there are other permanent side effects as well.

We don't even know the scope of them because this has never been tested longitudinally ever, but the effects are very obvious and if you poke around on the internet for about four minutes, you will see them.

One teenage girl just uploaded a video showing the effects of five years of puberty blockers on her. Watch this.

(BEGIN VIDEO CLIP)

VIDEO: When I talk about being too far gone, I don't really know what else to call it, this is what I mean. This is how deep my voice is. It's gotten deeper over time and it's settled.

This is what I mean by hair loss and it just keeps getting worse. It keeps thinning. It keeps receding backwards. You know and I'm not exactly sure that's coming back.

Those are the main things when I talk about being androgenized to a point of no return. This is what happens when you give a woman testosterone for five years. This is what happens.

(END VIDEO CLIP)

CARLSON: Yes. . That's what happens. That and a lot of other things. That's what they're telling you is "gender-affirming." No, it's mutilation. It's grotesque. It's destroying people's lives, children's lives.

Democrats Want Gender-Affirming Sanctuaries; Virginia Democrats Want To Prosecute Parents Who Refuse To Help Their Kids Transition; FBI Not Interested In Prosec....

We made a documentary on this for "Tucker Carlson Originals." We spoke to a lot of people who had endured similar torture.

(BEGIN VIDEO CLIP)

HELENA: The testosterone kind of had this effect on me, where with every step that I took, it would feel good for a short amount of time, but then eventually it's like those same feelings come back up.

WALT: There's the initial euphoria that you go through. I changed my gender and everything is going to be wonderful.

KATHY: It was euphoric. I was like, the feeling I had when I started living as a man was I was free. I was finally who I should have been all along.

CARLSON NARRATION: But that euphoria was short-lived.

KATHY: My mental health just got worse. My ability to socialize just got worse. I felt so disconnected from myself.

I started using, like drugs and alcohol as a crutch, and I was just a total disaster and the effects of the testosterone on my mental health specifically just made everything 10 million times worse.

WALT: I had bought into the lie and I almost took my life.

(END VIDEO CLIP)

CARLSON: It is just awful and every person who is participating in this, in their moments of clarity knows that 10 years from now, there will be thousands of vocal victims of this moment of true craziness and hysteria that has gripped our country. People's lives are being destroyed right before us. Most adults are too cowardly to say a word about it and the Democratic Party is actively doing all it can to promote this, to protect hospitals that are mutilating and destroying the lives of children.

In the state of California -- always a bellwether -- a legislator called Scott Wiener has just sponsored legislation to make California a so-called Sanctuary State for kids who want to mutilate their own bodies, to castrate themselves.

Scott Wiener, really? Is he a good father? Would you trust this guy within 500 yards of a child? Probably not.

Gavin Newsom just signed the bill, of course. So, what's the point here? It's not to protect children. It's not protecting them. Any parent will tell you if you want to protect children, you tell them, take a deep breath and reach adulthood and then make rational decisions about how to live their lives.

You would definitely not let them make a decision, an irreversible decision like this, for themselves. You're their parent. That's the whole point. But the Democratic Party doesn't like parents. The Democratic Party is replacing parents with itself. "We're in charge now."

It's the most recognizable possible move for any totalitarian movement. Break up the family. Replace parents with politicians. The State is in charge. The party is in charge, obviously, and it's happening all over the country.

Ian Prior has been on this for a long time, more than a year. He is Executive Director of Fight for Our Schools in Virginia and we are happy to have him join us tonight.

Ian, thanks so much for coming on.

You wonder if parents in your State are aware of just how -- this hasn't gone away, just the opposite. We see all of these videos of angry parents at School Board meetings, but they've gotten even more aggressive in pushing it or am I imagining that?

Democrats Want Gender-Affirming Sanctuaries; Virginia Democrats Want To Prosecute Parents Who Refuse To Help Their Kids Transition; FBI Not Interested In Prosec....

IAN PRIOR, EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR, FIGHT FOR OUR SCHOOLS: No, that's absolutely right and this bill that is being pushed in Virginia by Elizabeth Guzman. I mean, it's evil, but it's predictable. I mean, this is where it goes.

We've been dealing in Virginia, especially Northern Virginia with schools that say, "Well, look, if Judy comes to the school counselor and says, I want to be John now," we don't have to tell the parent unless the student gives us permission and the reason why they don't tell the parent is because the parent might not affirm that and the schools consider that an unsafe environment, abusive, right? And so that's why the parents don't get to know.

This is the natural progression, a law that says, yes, we agree it's abusive and since it is abusive, now we're going to send CPS after you. We're going to prosecute you for felonies and misdemeanors and we are going to destroy your lives and destroy your employment and we are going to take your kids from you.

What Elizabeth Guzman did was entirely predictable and all the Democrats like Abigail Spanberger and Jennifer Wexton, they are going to try and distance themselves from this. You can't. You've already gone out there and said you support schools keeping this information from parents, you are completely okay with this agenda, and you're not going to be able to outrun it.

CARLSON: But teachers and school administrators and Elizabeth Guzman from Peru, they're not your kids' parents, you are your kids' parents, where do they get the right to make these kinds of decisions for your children?

PRIOR: Well, they don't have the right. I mean, they do not have the right. The Constitution gives parents the rights to the care, custody, and control of their children. So, if they tried this, they would be roundly defeated in Court.

But look, the fact of the matter is for people like Elizabeth Guzman and her allies, if you go and you're reading your kid's books about transgenderism at five, you're getting them on puberty blockers, you're then giving them testosterone and getting a double mastectomy, you're a great parent.

Otherwise, if you don't believe that, they are going to prosecute you, put you in jail and you're not going to see your kids because they're going to take them.

CARLSON: Yes, well, live and let live. Yes, they didn't mean it.

Ian Prior, I appreciate your coming on tonight. Thank you very much.

PRIOR: Thanks.

CARLSON: So you'd never know this was happening if you listen to a lot of Republicans running for Congress this fall. They want to talk about tax cuts, as always, they want to talk about safe things.

Karoline Leavitt is not someone who is only talking about safe things, she is running for Congress in New Hampshire. She just won the primary there, talking about very unsafe things. We're grateful to have her join us tonight.

Karoline Leavitt, thanks so much for coming.

Are you talking about this on the campaign trail in New Hampshire?

KAROLINE LEAVITT (R), NEW HAMPSHIRE CONGRESS CANDIDATE: Yes, we are talking about this on the campaign trail in New Hampshire, Tucker, because in fact, here in New Hampshire, in more than 40 School Districts in our State, there are policies that prevent teachers and school administrators from informing parents about their minor children's behavior in the classroom.

In fact, recently in Manchester, New Hampshire, our State's largest Public School District, a mother filed suit against the school because her daughter was identifying as a boy in the classroom. The teachers were going along with it and the parents had no idea.

Democrats Want Gender-Affirming Sanctuaries; Virginia Democrats Want To Prosecute Parents Who Refuse To Help Their Kids Transition; FBI Not Interested In Prosec....

Well, a Democrat-appointed Judge, make no mistake dismissed the mother's lawsuit and said she does not have the right to know what is going on in the classroom. I read this in the local paper and was astonished.

I reached out to the mother personally. We held a press conference on our campaign to call attention to this policy that is prohibiting parents from raising their children and it got a lot of buzz.

In fact, the Democratic Party Chair here in New Hampshire said that I am enabling child beaters and child killers. It's completely crazy. But this is one of the reasons I'm running for Congress in the first place, Tucker, because policies like this and the woke Democratic Party and their allies in the mainstream media, the Big Tech companies, and certainly the Biden administration and my Democrat opponent here in New Hampshire, Chris Pappas are indoctrinating my generation.

It is having a direct and immediate impact on folks my age and even younger than me, that's why I've stepped up to run for Congress and talk about these issues, because these are the issues of our time, and Republicans can win on them, but we have to have the courage to talk about it in the first place.

CARLSON: Yes, sorry, Chris Pappas, you're not the head of my family, I am. You're not my kid's parent.

LEAVITT: Yes.

CARLSON: I am. You know, thank you. Thank you for saying that. Karoline Leavitt, we are rooting for you in New Hampshire. Appreciate your coming on.

LEAVITT: Thank you.

CARLSON: So, let's say you're worried about climate change. Lots of people are worried about climate change. Would the inevitable expression of that concern be to destroy some of the greatest art in Western civilization in order to hurt other people? No, you'd have to be a lunatic, but a lot of them are and that's why climate activists just vandalized one of the greatest paintings in the world.

Plus, masks did not work. They knew they didn't work, but they are still required in a lot of places. And if you don't wear one, you can be thrown in jail. It just happened, literally to one man in North Carolina, who joins us next.

CARLSON: Well, the FBI is cracking down on religious extremists. They are dangerous, meaning Christians who sing hymns at abortion clinics. "Lock them up." But it turns out not all religious wackos are created equal in the mind of Merrick Garland who really is completely out of control partisan, making a mockery of justice every day.

So, there is one group of religious extremists that Garland has no interest in reining in even though they commit actual crimes and those would be climate fanatics. People who were determined to end Western civilization and destroy everything in it. Not Eastern civilization, China's totally fine. Our cultural inheritance must go.

So, the lunatics and also criminals, and two of them today from the group Just Stop Oil, it is that simple, Just Stop Oil, settle down, trust founder. Anyway, two of them were arrested after throwing tomato soup on Vincent Van Gogh's famous painting "Sunflowers." That would be in the National Gallery in London. Then the protesters glued themselves to the wall.

(BEGIN VIDEO CLIP)

UNIDENTIFIED MALE: Security.

UNIDENTIFIED FEMALE: What is worth more? Art or life?

(END VIDEO CLIP)

Democrats Want Gender-Affirming Sanctuaries; Virginia Democrats Want To Prosecute Parents Who Refuse To Help Their Kids Transition; FBI Not Interested In Prosec....

CARLSON: Oh yes. So, in a just world those kids would remain glued to the wall for say the next eight months, but they're not. Of course, they won't be punished. Those are religious extremists, just so you know. And they're not just in Europe, that is happening all over this country.

Same people, same agenda, same radicalism, same destruction. Are they in the FBI's radar? No. Of course, they are not.

So we've all kind of given up pretending that masks stop the spread of corona, they don't, and yet amazingly, since we're supposed to be following the science, in many parts of the United States, masks still serve a purpose. They give the government an excuse to punish people for no reason whatsoever and to sort the obedient from the disobedient. That just happened to one man in Harnett County, North Carolina.

The man's name is Gregory Hahn. He showed up for jury duty in a mask optional Courthouse. When he got there since it was optional, he said, I don't really want to wear a mask. So in response to this, the Judge, a man called Charles Winston Gilchrist threw Gregory Hahn in jail.

Now we would assume this be a made up story except it's not, because Mr. Gregory Hahn is joining us now.

Mr. Hahn, thank you very much for coming on. Did we mistake that this was a mask optional Courthouse, you opted not to wear a mask and you wound up in jail? How'd that happen?

GREGORY HAHN, JAILED FOR NOT WEARING A MASK: That's correct and so my family thought it was a joke, too, when I sent the article to them.

I never thought I would serve up the jury duty and ended up behind bars. So, it happened.

There was no warning or requirements. Going into the Courthouse, there is no mask mandate statewide. No mask mandate in Harnett County. Everyone walked in, there was 98 of us. And we were on this jury assembly room and we were told that masks were required per the Judge.

Now, we were in there for about 20 to 30 minutes shoulder to shoulder with three-quarters of us not wearing masks. So the virus, if there was a virus out there, contaminated us anyway.

So I was called when they called roll call. I made eye contact with the clerk and she said, "I need you to just come over here for not wearing the mask." So she isolated me from the Courtroom, sat there until the bailiff got me, escorted me outside out of the Courthouse and I said "What's going on?" She goes, "Apparently, the Judge wants to talk to you." I'm like, "Okay."

So, she brings me upstairs to the Courtroom where the Judge was having a case, presiding a case already, doors open, motioned in. There was about 50 to 75 people in there and I'm being told to stand before the Judge.

The Judge then says, "Mr. Han, I understand that you don't want to wear a mask." I said, "That's correct." And he says, "Well, it's my --" and he says, "Why don't you want to wear a mask?" And I said the exact same thing I just mentioned, there is no State mandate. The Governor lifted it on May 4th. There are no signs in the Courthouse that you have to wear a mask. There is nothing.

And he goes, "Well, it's my Court and I'm going to order you wear a mask. And are you refusing my order?" And I said, "Yes, sir. I am." And he goes, "Do you know what the consequences are?" I proceeded to ask the questions like, what's the consequences for not wearing a mask? And he goes, "No, for contempt." Like, "No, I don't know what the punishment is." He goes, "Well, $500.00 fine, up to 30 days in jail."

Now my mouth is speaking before my mind, really kind of wrapping around my head around what was I was going to say and I said, "I'm not going to wear a mask." And he goes 24 hours in the Harnett County Jail.

Democrats Want Gender-Affirming Sanctuaries; Virginia Democrats Want To Prosecute Parents Who Refuse To Help Their Kids Transition; FBI Not Interested In Prosec....

CARLSON: You know, you would have been better just selling fentanyl to children because that's now allowed. Can I just get -- I mean, I know nothing about you. We've never met. I literally know nothing about you, but I can tell just by looking at you, you're probably not a Biden voter. And my guess is, I'm just guessing here -- my guess is that the Judge could feel that, too.

Do you think it may have had something to do it? You're not obedient.

HAHN: I had a feeling, yes, there was some definite bias there. I don't think the Judge actually was prepared for me to say, no, I'm still not wearing a mask after he told me what the punishment was. So, he had to go forward with his decision.

CARLSON: The Judge sounds like a complete lunatic, who I hope is taken off the bench soon. But what was jail like?

HAHN: It was the worst 24 hours of my life. I was refused to make a phone call to my minor child who was home. I asked to be excused since I wasn't even selected for jury duty yet, it was still orientation. He could have exempted me. There were 98 people that showed up for jury duty, and I thought I was just going to be in a holding cell for 24 hours. No big deal.

I still had my jeans on, my shirt. And after a while, I realized that six o'clock comes by, I'm like, okay, I got motioned in, got changed to an orange uniform. Got a roll of toilet paper and toothpaste, towel, grab a mat, come with me. And I'm walking with inmates to a cell that I have no idea what this guy is in for. And I was there for about two to three hours in one cell and then they called around nine o'clock or 10 o'clock.

I couldn't tell what time it was because I had no idea, but I went past the guard shack and they're watching Monday Night Football. So, I had an idea was around nine thirty or 10 o'clock and then they put me in isolation until two o'clock the next day.

CARLSON: This is --

HAHN: Tucker, if I could --

CARLSON: Please, go ahead.

HAHN: If I can say one thing, one of the scenarios that I keep thinking about that I wish would have happened, it just took one person to make a stand, and no one else joined me. I wish there was a movie scene where more than like, maybe five people stood up and joined me.

CARLSON: Yes.

HAHN: It's hard doing the right things and I told my kids, you know, always stand up for what you believe. Don't be bullied and stand up for what you believe is what is right.

CARLSON: That's right. Well, no one is ever going to stand up with you the first time and that's the point. That's why it is so important for one brave man to stand up and assert his dignity as a man and refuse to obey and I'm grateful that you did despite the price that you paid.

Gregory Hahn, thank you, and thanks for telling us about it.

HAHN: Thank you very much. Appreciate it.

CARLSON: Thank you.

So the Biden administration has erased America's borders. According to one foreign leader, the administration is sharing a plan with other countries that would erase all borders in the region. Sounds like conspiracy theory? We've got details, next.

CARLSON: So the Nord Stream pipelines are some of the most important energy pipelines in the world and they bring natural gas from Russia to Western Europe. In February, Joe Biden and Toria Nuland of the State Department promised to destroy the Nord Stream pipelines if Putin invaded Ukraine, then impossibly related news, last month, both Nord Stream pipelines were sabotaged, destroyed.

So after that happened, because it is a big deal, the government of Sweden pledged to create a joint investigation team with NATO countries, Germany and Denmark, to determine who did this.

So the investigation has been concluded, but you don't get to learn the results even though they keep telling you Russia did it. According to DER SPIEGEL in Germany: "Sweden is said to have justified the refusal by saying that the security classification of this investigation results was too high to share with other countries."

Well, that's interesting. So they are telling us that Russia did it, but they are not going to tell us the results of the investigation. Hmm, why are they protecting Russia? Or possibly Russia didn't really do it. I mean, like, how obvious can the lies be?

So the European Union has not really worked out well for Europe and we will know the details this winter when people are freezing. So naturally, the Biden administration wants to create something very much like that in North America, an EU-style government.

The Mexican President, AMLO says that Tony Blinken, our Secretary of State just proposed that idea. Watch this.

(BEGIN VIDEO CLIP)

ANDRES MANUEL LOPEZ OBRADOR, MEXICAN PRESIDENT (through translator): I think that Mr. Blinken spoke about consolidating the region of North America and we agree on that.

We are also in favor of a unity of the entire American continent like the way the first European community emerged and converted into the European Union. That's what we want.

(END VIDEO CLIP)

CARLSON: Oh, so we're going to merge with Mexico in the middle of the most brutal drug war in its history. Mexico is effectively run by the cartels at this point, but we are going to merge with the cartels.

Okay, no one notices really. Florida Congressman Matt Gaetz. noticed it. He sent a letter to Tony Blinken asking, "What is this?" He joins us tonight to tell us what he has heard back.

Congressman, thanks so much for noticing this. And for asking what it means. What does it mean? And did you get an answer?

REP. MATT GAETZ (R-FL): It means that the globalist left wants a homogenized North America because they don't think that much of the United States of America in the first place. I haven't gotten an answer, but it begs the question, why are we so friendly with Mexico anyway?

They have cooked up more death in the Mexican mountains than any crazy mad scientist in Wuhan would have ever thought of, and it's hard to tell where the cartels end and the government of Mexico begins.

They have a former President take $100 billion bribe from Sinaloa. They had a former Defense Chief who functions as the muscle for the cartel, one of their state level attorneys general sent to 20 years in the United States of America. But while they're sleepwalking to a war with Russia, they are actually surrendering American sovereignty to Mexico. And Canada is not much better.

I don't want my constituents having to live under the socialist tyrannical lockdowns enacted by Justin Trudeau Castro while their nephew is being poisoned by Mexican fentanyl, but that apparently is the globalist order that the Biden administration supports here as they give away our money and our chance of a brighter future overseas.

CARLSON: Of course, I mean, the Mexican cartels have killed multiples, many, many more Americans than al-Qaeda ever did and we fought multiple wars over that.

Congressman Matt Gaetz, I appreciate your following up on that when everyone else is ignoring it. Thank you. Thank you.

GAETZ: Thank you.

CARLSON: So people are fleeing Illinois, and it's not just the debt. This State has unsustainable debt, but that's not why they're leaving. Not walking, running out of Illinois. It is rampant crime, it's too dangerous to live in Illinois, but you can't point that out.

A radio show host in Chicago just did and now the Governor of the State and Chicago Mayor Lori Lightfoot wants to punish him. He joins us next.

CARLSON: People always grouse that Chicago is becoming third world, it is so dangerous, but that's not true at all. Chicago was far more dangerous than most third world cities. You're way less likely to be murdered in La Paz than you are in Chicago.

But the City's Mayor, Lori Lightfoot isn't concerned at all. She is not fighting crime, she is spending her time uploading videos like this onto TikTok.

[VIDEO CLIP PLAYS]

CARLSON: Once again, it's a humiliation exercise. How much will you take? They're trying to find out.

Dan Proft is not interested in taking a whole lot more of this. He was born in the State of Illinois. He is now a radio host in Chicago. Recently, he released this ad highlighting the obvious, Chicago is really dangerous. Watch.

(BEGIN VIDEO CLIP)

TEXT: On a Sunday afternoon in Chicago's Lakeview neighborhood.

(UNIDENTIFIED FEMALE screaming.)

TEXT: Pritzker. Lightfoot. How much worse does it have to get?

(END VIDEO CLIP)

CARLSON: There was a time when Democrats were concerned about violence against women, they said they were. They're not concerned about that at all. In fact, noting it is racist. That's what the Governor of Illinois, JB Pritzker has said. He said that ad, which is just taped from a Ring camera has a "racial tinge."

Lori Lightfoot, probably the stupidest person in elected office in America has also accused Dan Proft of -- wait for it -- racism. And of course, the local NBC affiliate took orders from politicians as always, and they pulled the ad.

It has hard to believe this is happening, but it is.

Dan Proft joins us tonight.

Dan, thanks so much for coming on. So, can you just be creative here. How is it "racist" to show raw, uncut video of a crime against a woman that happened on a leafy street in the middle of the day? How is that racist?

DAN PROFT, CHICAGO RADIO HOST: Well, right and we don't even know the races of the assailants because they were masked. You can't tell me from the video.

CARLSON: That's a good point.

Democrats Want Gender-Affirming Sanctuaries; Virginia Democrats Want To Prosecute Parents Who Refuse To Help Their Kids Transition; FBI Not Interested In Prosec....

PROFT: I mean, so, you know, but this is just what Lori Lightfoot and JB Pritzker fall back on. I mean, you're very familiar with it. You're racist. You're this, you're that. All they have his name calling because they are providing -- they are presiding over a lawlessness that has no comparison nationally, an exodus of residents from Illinois, an exodus of humanity, not since the Israelites fled Egypt.

And all they have is to create boogiemen -- who make boogeyman of people who are pointing out what's actually happening. You know, it's one thing to talk about statistics, to talk about the fact that Chicago is approaching 600 murders and 3,000 people shot just this year alone, but that doesn't bring it home to people the way that something like that ad that you showed does, which is why they had to collude with the network affiliates in Chicago, and make sure nobody sees it, because they want you to believe everything is just fine. Have a little fun. Join Lori Lightfoot in her karaoke contest and everything is going to be okay.

CARLSON: But it just shows how cold, how stony-hearted, how uncaring about other people they are because I think a normal person, no matter who they voted for, here is a woman screaming terror, assaulted in front of her own home and immediately feels deep compassion for her and hard that this is happening. They don't seem to care at all.

PROFT: They don't care about crime victims. They care about how crime victims are presented, because they need to paper over the fact that this is a team, this duo of Pritzker and Lightfoot that just moved the most permissive, no cash bail law in the country.

I mean, Tucker, we have the law going into effect January 1 in Illinois if JB Pritzker is not removed from office on November 8th, a law going into effect that makes it non-detainable. These are non-attainable offenses -- arson, aggravated assault, second degree murder, kidnapping, you walk.

In Chicago alone, we have had 45 people on electronic monitoring who have attempted to kill or killed somebody while on electronic monitoring, and that crime has come into the suburbs.

CARLSON: That's exactly right. And both Lightfoot and Pritzker are totally insulated by taxpayer funded bodyguards so they don't care.

Dan Proft, I appreciate your bravery. Thank you.

We'll be right back.

CARLSON: Ouch. We're out of time. Kind of sneaks up you, doesn't it? But we will be back on Monday. Have the best happy weekend with the ones you love.

We will see you soon.
